FIRE LAST NIGHT caused an estimated $3,000 damage at the Palm Springs Shade Company, 344 North Indian Avenue, $2,000 to contents and $1,000 to the structure. The blaze, reportedly started as a result of "electricity," was first noticed at 5:33 p.m., and quickly spread through

Report Says Firms Could Do More Here

PUC Body Makes Finding After Months of Study

Telephone and Telegraph Section of the California Public Utilities Commission today issued its report on telephone service in the Palm Springs, Desert Hot Springs, Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage and Palm Desert areas, after months of exhaustive research.

Consensus of the report is that much more could be accomplished, besides what is now being done by the three telephone companies affected, California Water and Telephone, Coachella Valley Home Telephone and Telegraph Company, and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Investigation by the commission's staff followed numerous complaints concerning service in the desert area by the companies named, with the campaign spearheaded by the Chambers of Commerce of the various communities as well as The Desert Sun, and investigation supported many of the complaints.

The report will form the staff's principal evidence at another public hearing to be held by the commissions in the near future on the complaints.

As a result of previous hearings, the commission issued an interim order that direct service be inaugurated between Palm Springs and Palm Desert not later than Dec. 1.

One of the recommendations of the commission's staff is that the companies involved each be required to submit to the commission a program for eliminating their respective deficiencies in service, facilities and operations, as found upon investigation.

This is believed to be what will be ordered at the next public hearing on the matter.

Polio Epidemic Strikes War-Ravaged Budapest

THREE PERSONS WERE hospitalized and a fourth was not injured in an accident on Highway 60-70 yesterday. The truck, traveling east on the double highway, attempted to make a turn at a cut-through just 6-tenths of a mile east of Cabazon when it was hit by a 1950 Ford sedan driven by Charles A. Steplton, 22, of Imperial. In the car with Steplton was his wife, Katherine, 20, and their 2½-year-old son, Ricky, all hospitalized at San Geronio Pass Hospital. Driver of the truck, a 1956 2-ton Chevrolet, was Billie Darwin Enos, 32, of Colton. The California Highway Patrol at Banning said that the car received major damage, and the truck had only minor damage. Photos of the accident were taken by Emerson Engleton of Los Angeles, who is vacationing in Palm Springs at the Vista del Sol.

Jaundice Also Reported in Capital City

Shortage of Milk, Soap, Food Plagues Two Big Cities

VIENNA — A polio epidemic has broken out in war-ravaged Budapest, the Communist controlled Budapest Radio announced today.

The radio said a polio epidemic had hit Budapest and Debrecen, the nation's third largest city with a population of 100,000 some 150 miles east of Budapest.

It also reported the capital was threatened by a spreading epidemic of amoebic jaundice from polluted water or vegetables.

BUDAPEST HAD a population of some 1.7 million when the anti-Communist revolt erupted. Soviet tanks and guns took a toll of many thousands lives in the fighting.

The situation is even more critical because of a shortage of soap and detergents, the radio said. The Communist masters had denied early entrance of relief supplies.

BUDAPEST RADIO said the health of babies and small children is threatened by a shortage of fresh milk in a country torn by starvation since the start of the revolt.

The public health situation generally in Budapest is "unsatisfactory," it said. Much of the city itself was rubble from Soviet tanks and guns and water mains and sewers were broken during the fighting between the patriots and the Soviet troops.

Budapest Radio said several of Budapest's largest hospitals suffered serious damage in the fighting.

THE BROADCAST said many schools in the capital could not be reopened because of damage suffered in the fighting, or because of the shortage of fuel. It added it was hoped that most would be able to reopen by Jan. 1.

The official Communist organ Nep Szabadsag announced today that workers who failed to return to their jobs after the Nov. 10 deadline set by the government would not get paid for November unless their plants were unable to resume operations. Workers who remained on the job during the first week of the revolt, Oct. 24 to 31, will get double pay for the entire month, the paper said. Those who walked out that week will receive only normal pay, it added.

Reports from Budapest said Hungarian rebels have revived local "revolutionary councils" and are taking over key positions in some provinces in defiance of the pro-Moscow regime.

Army Alerting Its Reservists

WASHINGTON — The Army is notifying its reservists that "future national emergencies" may make it necessary to recall them to active duty without advance warning.

The notification is being made in letters which are part of the "continuous screening" of the Army's ready reserve, the elements which can be ordered to active duty by presidential proclamation.

Army spokesmen emphasized this week there is no present intention of calling up reservists because of Middle East tension.

1000 Battling San Bernardino Area Brush Fire

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. — A small army of firefighters massed forces today to battle a wind whipped brush fire which has gutted more than 7,000 acres, claimed one life and burned seven other persons.

Gusty winds fanned the blaze into an inferno along two fronts but the more than 1,000 firefighters hoped to contain the western front sometime today. The eastern flank was burning out of control in nearly inaccessible terrain.

TWO FIREFIGHTERS were critically burned Tuesday when leaping flames broke through lines in the Plunge Creek area. Three others also suffered burns in separate mishaps.

Edwin D. Bass, 27, Riverside, Calif., a bulldozer operator, died early Tuesday of burns suffered Monday night. Two companions also were hospitalized with burns suffered when they became trapped by a sudden wind shift.

DICK JOHNSON, fire prevention officer for the San Bernardino National Forest, said if the fire continued advancing in its north-easterly direction on the eastern flank it could threaten the mountain resort of Running Springs. But he said the resort and its 500 permanent residents were about three miles away and such a threat was only "a remote possibility at this time."

WINDS, REACHING 40 miles an hour, hampered firefighting operations Tuesday. One flank of the fire was moving into the San Bernardino lower mountain area about six miles north and east of here while the other was about three miles above nearby Highland.

It was at Highland and the surrounding community of Patton that flames destroyed at least five homes and numerous structures shortly after the fire broke out Monday. Several rich orange groves in the area also were destroyed.

Two hundred veteran Indian firefighters were flown from Arizona and New Mexico and state and federal personnel arrived from other California points Tuesday to bolster the fire lines.

Syria Charges Israel Masses Arms at Border

DAMASCUS — Syria charged Israel today with massing troops along its Syrian-Jordan borders and asked the United Nations to investigate.

The charge was made in a note to U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld by Syrian Foreign Minister Saleh Bitar.

The note charged that Anglo-French forces were participating in the troop buildup.

Tired Marilyn Gives Stunned Newsmen Brush-Off and Cover-Up

NEW YORK — A tired Marilyn Monroe returned home today and gave photographers their biggest disappointment since she turned briefly to high-necked dresses a while back.

The blonde movie queen stepped off a plane shortly after 8 a.m. from London where she just finished the movie "The Sleeping Prince," with Sir Laurence Olivier.

Most of Marilyn was covered by a mink coat and severe black dress. She wore dark glasses, too, although they were perched atop her blonde curls.

She brushed off a crowd of newsmen and photographers and hurried into a hired limousine with her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, and her secretary, Lois Weber.

"Miss Monroe is extremely tired," Miss Weber told newsmen as the trio hurried to the limousine.

The brushoff stunned the waiting newspaper, radio and television representatives who had expected the actress to wave and wiggle for their cameras in the manner that has made her an international sensation.

Nation to Spend $500,000,000 for Festive Turkeys

NEW YORK — Americans will spend about half a billion dollars this year for turkeys, most of it at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Millions of gobblers have gone to the "guillotine" in the past few months and those that survived the annual Thanksgiving slaughter face a gloomy future. Another purge is planned before Christmas.

The 1956 turkey crop is a big one—76,340,000 birds or about 134 for each American family. Back in 1950 there were only 17,419,600 gobblers, or about half a bird for each family.

The Department of Agriculture estimated that about 75 per cent of the turkey crop will have been killed and processed by the end of November. The peak slaughtering period is October, a spokesman said.

The department estimated that turkey prices at retail are running anywhere from six to 10 cents a pound below 1955, depending on the size of the bird you buy.

Molotov Gets New Soviet Job

LONDON — Former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, an old-line Stalinist, was appointed suddenly tonight to the post of Soviet minister of state control, the Cabinet job responsible for enforcing government policy.

Molotov had been a first deputy premier without specific assignment since he resigned from the foreign ministry earlier this year in an apparent concession to the anti-Stalinists. Soviet Premier Nikolai Budaganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev are leaders of this action inside the Kremlin.

Molotov's new appointment followed authoritative reports of a new struggle in the Moscow hierarchy between the old-line Stalinists and the new faction led by Khrushchev.

The group will return here about 5:30 p.m.

Chessman Faces 7th Death Date

LOS ANGELES — The seventh execution date will be set next week for convict-author Caryl Chessman, 34, whose plea before the Ninth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals was turned down in San Francisco Tuesday.

Dept. Dist. Atty. J. Miller Leavy, who prosecuted the case of the "red light bandit" here, said he will ask Superior Judge Charles W. Fricke to set a new execution date as soon as official notice of the court's action is received, probably Monday.

The refusal of the U.S. Court of Appeals Tuesday to deny him a writ of habeas corpus left him only one recourse, to carry his battle once again to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The appellate court's decision represented Chessman's 12th appeal. His forthcoming plea will be his sixth to the Supreme Court.

Mitchell Raps Mayor's Statement On Leasing of Indian Land Here

Annexation of Section 30, at the southern approach to the city, was discussed briefly at the combined meeting of the City Council and the Indian Council this week.

The matter will be taken up with the allottees in the section and it may be brought up at the Agua Caliente Tribal Council meeting next week, although there is an indication that the allottees in the section will withhold any decision until the planning consultant hired by the tribe submits his report.

Ned Mitchell, local Indian agent, today struck out verbally at a report made at the meeting by Mayor Florian Boyd that leases in the area were being signed for periods of 25 years, and said that it was currently illegal for any such action to be taken in this area.

THE ESTABLISHMENT of Public Law 255, which was signed by the President of the United States on Aug. 9, 1955, permits the signing by the Secretary of Interior of 25-year leases on Indian land. However, authority has been withheld for any land in the Palm Springs area, in effect placing a government freeze order on all Indian land here, and not allowing any lease for more than one year. The order will hold until a master plan has been completed.

The local Indians and Indian Tribe control a total of 32,000 acres in the Palm Springs area, 7,000 of which is within the Palm Springs city limits.

The Indian agent said this morning that a contract approving the hiring of a planning consultant should be on its way back from Washington, and that it was hoped that the council would be able to meet with him at the meeting next week.

The Desert Sun, in checking whether or not some 25-year leases were signed in the area on approval of courts, found that it was untrue, and according to Superior Court Judge Hilton McCabe, the court can take no action in approving any such leases.

And accordingly, if any such lease has been made privately between the Indian land owner and a lessee, that lease is invalid.

Mitchell said that any unapproved lease can be expected to receive very close scrutiny by the United States Department of Justice.

THE INDIAN AGENT particularly cited the wording contained in a letter from Rita Singer, solicitor for the Indian Bureau in Sacramento, in which she said:

"Although in general an Indian may contract in the same way as any other people, this right is restricted by statutes affecting trust property. The prohibition against alienation of allotments has been broadly interpreted by the courts to carry out the policy of Congress to prevent Indians from being taken advantage of. Contracts involving alienation of allotted land from which restrictions have not been removed have been held to be void. Consideration which has passed from a non-Indian to an Indian for a conveyance which violates the law will not be ordered restored by the courts even if the purchaser was acting in good faith."

"Both in the General Allotment Act and in the Mission Indian Act, under which allotments on the Palm Springs Reservation are made, it is specifically provided that if any conveyance shall be made of the lands set apart and allotted as is provided, or any contract made touching the same, before the expiration of the time mentioned (the trust period), such conveyance or contract shall be absolutely null and void."

"There is also a criminal penalty to which a person may be subject who induces an Indian to execute a contract to sell his allotment while it is in a restricted status."

Egyptians Jeer First U.N. Police Troops' Arrival

PORT SAID, Egypt — A noisy protest demonstration met the first small group of the U.N. Emergency Force which arrived today to act as a peace buffer between occupying Anglo-French troops and the Egyptian population.

The UNEF contingent, a token company of 216 Norwegian soldiers, was met by a shouting mob of angry Egyptians when the troops reached Port Said by slow train from the south.

Hundreds of screaming Egyptians massed in the center of the city demonstrating against the arrival of new "occupiers."

"Nasser . . . Nasser . . . Nasser," the crowd shouted.

The crowd broke through a line of Port Said policemen guarding the local railroad station where the Norwegians arrived from the UNEF assembly base at Abu Sweir in Egyptian-held territory.

Lt. Gen. Hugh Stockwell, commander of Anglo-French forces, was in personal charge of troops on the scene. He shoved his way through the crowd and ordered the soldiers to form a solid front. The Tommies formed up and bodily shoved the demonstrators out of the way.

Coast Dock Men Okay Strike Plan

SAN FRANCISCO — West Coast longshoremen empowered union leaders to call a strike and join East and Gulf Coast dock workers in a sympathy walkout that could shut down all the nation's ports, it was announced today.

Local headquarters of Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union reported that members from Puget Sound to San Diego voted by about a 4 to 1 margin to approve the strike proposal.

The vote left to Bridges and other I.W.U. officials the decision whether to join east and Gulf Coast workers in their six-day-old strike.

The ballot proposed that the union reaffirm in current negotiations with West Coast employer groups the "right" to "act with the East Coast."

"That right includes refusal to work East Coast and Gulf ships, the right to shut down if scabs are used and the right to take strike action jointly with the East Coast and Gulf," it said.

Parking Meter Receipts Start Seasonal Increase; 580 in Use

Parking meter receipts started their seasonal climb during October, with $2,630 collected from the 580 meters in operation, compared to $2,322 realized during the same month in 1955.

Meters have now gone on a dime an hour basis, with an even larger increase expected to result this month.

Total amount collected during the first four months of this fiscal year still trails the 1955 figure, $4,150 to $4,183, according to Director of Finance Shelby Langford.

Realized by the city since the parking meters were installed in March 1949 is $132,478.

State Railroads Ask 7 Pct. Rate Hike on Freight

SAN FRANCISCO, AP — An "emergency" seven percent freight rate increase to offset higher payroll costs has been requested by California's major railroads in a petition filed with the state Public Utilities Commission.

At the same time, the PUC filed a "vigorous" protest with the Interstate Commerce Commission against ICC plans to begin hearings Nov. 23 on a similar freight rate increase on a nationwide scale.

The railroads told both the California PUC and the ICC that higher payroll costs due to a recent 10 percent wage increase had created an "emergency" situation. The California railroads filed their request for an increase Friday.

The state commission in its protest to the ICC said the scheduling of early arguments showed "an intention to deny reasonable requests for continuance."

National Thanksgiving Observance On Common Date Due to Sarah Hale

CONCORD, N. H. (AP)—Americans in the 48 states will join in a common day of thanksgiving next Thursday, chiefly because one of the most remarkable women of the 19th century waged an unceasing campaign for national recognition of the ancient Pilgrim custom.

Sarah Josepha Buell Hale, born in Newport, N. H. in 1788, badgered presidents, governors and other influential men for 25 years until finally Abraham Lincoln, in 1863, proclaimed Thanksgiving as a national holiday.

Known best as the author of the nursery rhyme, "Mary Had A Little Lamb," she was the champion of many worthy causes, but took up the idea of a national Thanksgiving as a personal crusade.

IT HAD OF COURSE been celebrated by many communities since the Pilgrims in 1621 set aside a day to give thanks for their harvest. But even after George Washington issued the first national Thanksgiving Day proclamation in 1789, most states and communities went back to observing their own various dates.

In her novels and in the editorial pages of her magazine, "Godfrey's Lady's Book," Mrs. Hale inserted propaganda for a day of national observance. Each year the magazine would list the states which had accepted the date of the last Thursday in November — and each year it would scold those not falling into line.

In addition, this brilliant and influential woman, who had been left a widow with five children at 34, wrote thousands of letters urging the re-establishment of the custom proclaimed by Washington. She maintained that among other benefits, a national Thanksgiving would strengthen the ties of union strained to the breaking point by the tensions of the pre-Civil War era.

AT LAST HER campaign bore fruit.

Abraham Lincoln issued the first national Thanksgiving proclamation since George Washington, saying:

"It has seemed to me fit and proper that they, the gifts of God should solemnly, reverently and gratefully be acknowledged as with one heart and one voice by the whole American people."

The custom has been kept ever since. It was a major achievement in the career of a woman whose life was a series of splendid efforts and accomplishments. Mrs. Hale raised the money that finished Bunker Hill Monument, she was the first to advocate women as teachers in public schools, she founded the first society for the advancement of women's wages and better working conditions, and she started the first day nursery.

THE INDOMITABLE widow was the first woman editor in this country, organized the Seaman's Aid Society and was instrumental in preserving Washington's Mount Vernon as a national memorial.

Only less remarkable than her accomplishments is the fact that all her achievements took place after she was 40.

Scientists Plan Two Services Here

Thanksgiving Day services will be held in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, First Church of Christ, Scientist, Palm Springs, announces that two services will be held, at 9:15 and 11 a.m. in the church at 271 Ocotillo Avenue.

The Thanksgiving Proclamation by the President of the United States, or by the Governor of California, or both, will be read as part of the service.

"I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with thanksgiving," sang the Psalmist in the Golden Text of the Thanksgiving Day Lesson-Sermon. (Ps. 69:30)

Luke's Gospel records that when Jesus healed the ten lepers, "one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God, and fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks: . . . And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine?" (17:15-17).

Mary Baker Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "Of the ten lepers whom Jesus healed, but one returned to give God thanks,—that is, to acknowledge the divine Principle which had healed him." "Those ready for the blessing you impart will give thanks. . . . When God heals the sick or the sinning, they should know the great benefit which Mind has wrought."

PRODUCTIVE VALLEY

Many resort-minded residents and business men of Palm Springs are unaware that just a few miles away is one of the most productive agricultural areas in the United States. Crops with an estimated value in excess of $25,000,000 will be harvested in the Coachella Valley by the end of the year. The per-acre return on crops in the area is likely unduplicated anywhere in the country.

Six of the major crops grown in the Valley are in the million dollar bracket—with dates and Thompson seedless grapes running neck-and-neck at the $5 million mark. It would surprise a lot of people to know that $3,500,000 worth of sweet corn is now harvested every year in the Valley, and $2 million in tomatoes. Grapefruit sales will likely exceed a million and a half this year and the tangerine crop is a sizable one too. The sixth leading crop is cotton which runs between $1.5 and $2 million annually. These are only estimated figures.

The total acreage under cultivation in the Coachella Valley is considerably over 60,000 and the total income from crops between $25 and $30 million. Land is being developed so fast that it is hard to keep an accurate record. On top of this is the rapidly expanding cattle business which is reaching new levels every year and bringing new business and income to the Valley.

Widespread Benefits

Growth of the agricultural and cattle industries around Indio, Mecca and Coachella has gone hand-in-hand with the development of this end of the Valley, between and including La Quinta and Palm Springs. While the developments are quite different, one has helped the other. Many people who have been attracted to the area as a resort have bought or developed productive ranches. The resort area benefits in many ways through prosperity of their neighboring section.

The area around Indio is seeking and will attract light industry. In this respect both sections of the Valley are working together to get the sort of development that is suitable to each locality.

Prospects are also bright for a new recreational development around the Salton Sea. This long-neglected opportunity is being eyed by new interests who see its possibilities. Look for some improvements in that direction soon.

Taken as a whole, the future of the Coachella Valley is a very bright one. Already one of the fastest growing sections of California, the possibilities for the future are so great that the whole area is still in its infancy.

TWO-WAY STREET

From the International Falls (Minn.) Daily Journal
Nationalization, a form of socialism under which the government controls basic resources and industries, is a two-way street. . . . The return of a nationalized function to private operation is both possible and feasible. . . . however, it is much easier to scramble than to unscramble. . . . England's conservative government has been finding this out. . . . Since coming into power in 1951, the conservatives have tried to denationalize only two, the trucking and steel industry. Neither effort has been entirely successful.

'ROCK AN' ROLL' RELIGION

From the St. Louis (Mo.) Labor Tribune
We are inclined to agree with Mr. Arthur Patzer, youth secretary of the Seventh Day Adventists Columbia Union Conference who recently blasted popular song writers who are cashing in on the current religion revival. . . . The religious "rock an' roll" we have been getting via the airwaves and juke boxes is as uncouth as it is uncalled for and makes a mockery of all real spiritual values.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Benny-Rogers to Rock 'Em With Parody

Jack Benny and Ginger Rogers rigged up a parody on some of the old Rogers-Astaire dances for one of Jack's upcoming telecasts that'll have you rolling on the floor. . . . Wally Cox paid $20 (marked down from $24.50) for a horrible looking watch. Wally explained, "I want something durable, because I smash rocks for a living." . . . Headliners for Jack Entratter's fourth anniversary show for the Sands in Las Vegas Dec. 14, for two shows (at mid-night and 2:30 a.m.), will be Jerry Lewis, Frank Sinatra and Danny Thomas. . . . The Groaner, as everyone knows, has been the Crosby family's biggest money-maker for years. Says Bob Crosby, "I was 14 years old before I knew Bing was my brother and not my father!"

DINAH SHORE snagged three big signatures on the dotted line for her upcoming Chevy Spectaculars: George Gobel, Nov. 30; Donald O'Connor, Dec. 1 and Perry Como, Jan. 13. Ann Sothern's Private Secretary will retire in January to make room for Marge and Gower Champion's new telecast, which will not only alternate with Jack Benny's CBS-TV show but will have Benny as executive producer of the series and also as an occasional guest. The Champion Show has a "story-with-music" format. . . . Robert Cummings, latest actor to turn director, will direct (as well as play a double role: the starring role and his own GRAND-FATHER!) the next five stanzas of The Bob Cummings Show.

STEVE DUNNE, one-time announcer on The Bob Crosby Show, will emcee a new participation show, "You're On Your Own," which airs for the first time Dec. 22 on CBS-TV, replacing "High Finance." . . . Contestants on the Lima, Peru, equivalent of "The $64,000 Question" have to keep going to the bitter end—no voluntary bowing out or anything like that.

the jackpot! . . . Dinah Shore offered George Burns a chance to sing on her Chevy Show but he had to turn it down. Too busy. Means George: "Nobody will let me sing on my own show—and here I get a perfect opportunity to louse up Dinah's and I have to say no! Brother, you can't win!" . . . London's BBC is angling for Phyllis Kirk to star in two-hour long live telecasts early next year. . . . Collier Young, Joan Fontaine's spouse and producer of the "On Trial" telecasts, admits he was in error at the outset of the season with his prediction that the series would lose $100,000 in getting off the ground. Now Collier groans: "We'll wind up $150,000 in the red!"

FAT BOONE says if 20th Century-Fox will hold up the start of "Bernadine," its teen-age comedy, till he completes his current semester at Columbia University, he'll be happy to go to work for them in the movie in late January. . . . Lux Video Theatre wrote a check for $100,000 in exchange for TV rights to 20 old Warner Bros. films. . . . Westinghouse, unhappy with the teleratings, renewed its sponsorship contract for "Studio One," effective Jan. 1, but only after producer Felix Jackson, Deanna Durbin's ex-husband, and the rest of the production staff promised to bow out. . . . Looks as though Ernie Kovacs will be left out in the January cold when Steve Allen chucks his "Tonight" show to devote full time to his Sunday slot opposite Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town." NBC-TV has a new format for "Tonight" in mind which leaves no spot for Kovacs—one of the funniest fellows around for my money! And that's a shame.

IF CBS-TV follows through with its plan to revamp the Saturday night lineup on that network next fall, here's what you'll be seeing: Jackie Gleason, followed by an hour of "Perry Mason" on film.

ti Page's new 60-minute show. . . . Gale Storm's new show, "Oh, Susanna!" will probably get the axe when the new fall CBS-TV lineup goes into effect. It just hasn't caught on. . . . Gale, incidentally, proudest new mother in town since the arrival of her first daughter (she has three sons), received this wire at the hospital from her producer, Hal Roach, Jr.: "Congratulations on being the only producer in Hollywood who's two weeks ahead of schedule!"

Doodles

By ROGER PRICE

"FLY ON A BENDER"
Jean Franklin of Los Angeles, California, who sent me this Doodle claims she knows for a fact that the Pretzel was invented accidentally by a Breadstick baker with the seven-year itch. I asked Dr. Schweine about this and he claims that it's probably true because most of his great inventions came about purely by chance. Like the time he dropped a box of low-protein spaghetti into a vat of liquid rubber and invented non-fattening shoe laces. Or when he accidentally crossed a tobacco leaf with a Mexican Jumping bean plant and came up with a cigarette that automatically flicks its own ashes. Makes you kind of stop and wonder what Edison was really trying to do when he invented the Electric Light.

THE FSP, meaning the Friendly Southern Pacific, seems to be having itself a field day around here. Last week came Jimmy Shea, who conducted the first downtown ticket office for the company here and this week it's Charles McGann, immediate predecessor of Sanford Cooper, present agent. Jimmy is now in San Francisco, top public relations man, and Chuck in Santa Barbara.

When Chuck first became the father of a son, he was so engrossed in selling transportation that he almost spelled it 'berth' on the announcements.

ANYWAY, have heard some complaints that the FSP isn't running enough passenger trains to service the Village. They now have four each way each day which seems reasonable enough. And it's very comfortable and speedy riding, landing you close to the center of town.

The FSP has an agreement to stop its trains here for any passengers and it costs them money. It costs more to stop and start a train on the grade up the pass than the price of several fares to Los Angeles.

And again may I note that the only time I got a free ride on the FSP was when, as a lad, I was exploring a box car's interior when the train took off.

WITH SO MANY telephone numbers being changed, it's a frustrating experience, especially when dialing a number starting with 6 or 7, to hear a dulcet voice: "That number has been changed, please dial information," and when you try to argue with her, you find it a recording.

One little letter lost can make a whale of a difference in the meaning of the message meant to be conveyed. For instance, they left the 'u' out of a Thanksgiving ad and it read: "put a little wine in your Thanksgiving men."

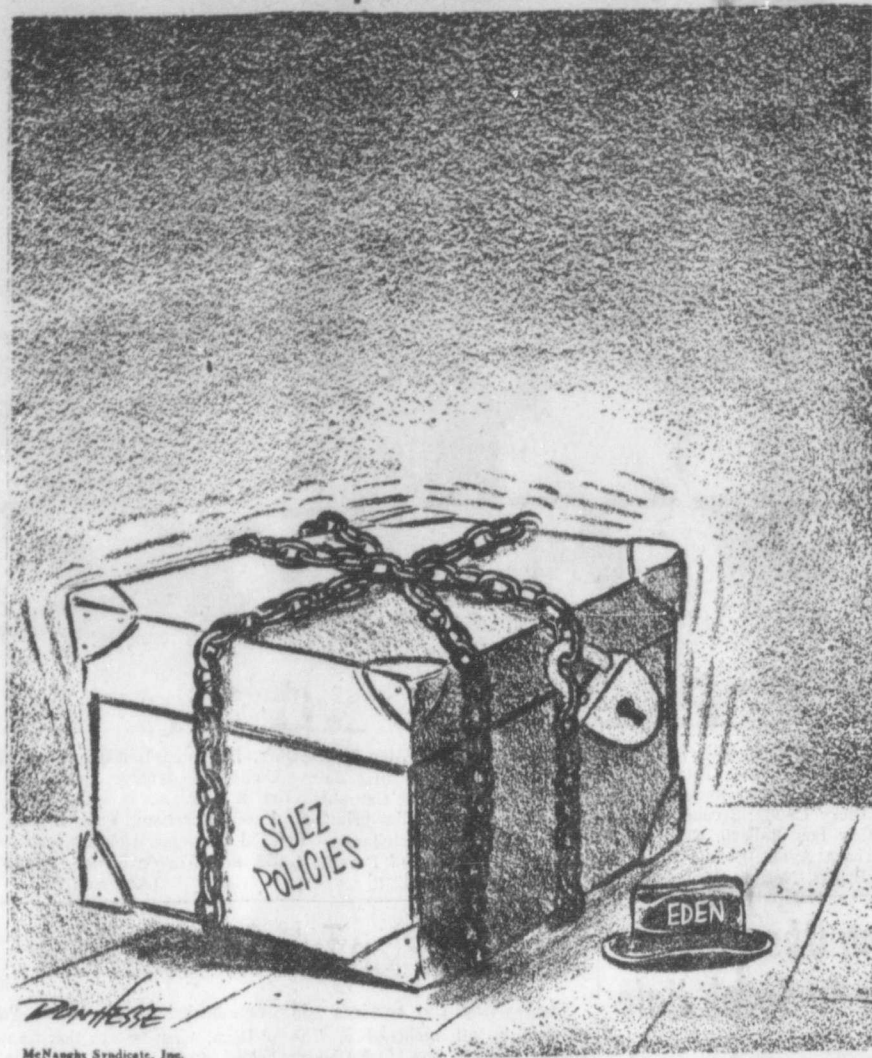

JIMMY COOPER, Chamber of Commerce manager, took his typewriter (mechanical) in his lap again this week to set me straight. Recently I passed on the comment of a visitor who wanted to know why the Palm Springs temperatures were not published daily in the Los Angeles newspapers.

Mr. Cooper hinted that I was becoming decrepit and my eyes could not read the fine print for, said he, the local temperatures are published daily in FOUR Los Angeles newspapers.

About the appearance of our temperatures during the summer," he added, "part of the deal in setting this (publication of the temperatures) up was that it be for the full twelve months and not interrupted in summer. We're not ashamed of our summer temperature. Sure we know it's hot but it's not humid (seldom), the pace is slowed down and we have clear skies and balmy nights most of the time."

He's telling ME!

The Live Polio Vaccine

The intensive search to improve the battle against poliomyelitis continues despite the fact it is recognized that the Salk vaccine is very efficacious. In the present year there was a decrease of over 50 per cent in the number of cases reported, indicating that many people, both children and adults, are not as yet taking advantage of this protective vaccine.

Recently, reports have come from the laboratories interested in improving the protection by polio vaccine. The word attenuated means weakened, and in its application here would mean weakened to an extent not possible of producing the disease. The laboratory work leading to such attenuation of poliomyelitis viruses has been conducted for over 10 years. It has concerned itself mainly with the identification of the strains which produce the disease. Also with the immune properties of selected strains, the stability and the attenuation or weakening techniques to provide a very mild reaction without actually producing the disease.

WHEN THIS TYPE of vaccine was first completed it was tried on monkeys, who react in a fashion similar to human beings in developing the disease, or throwing it off. In 1950, the first humans were given this live vaccine, and in the six years since then 600 persons from five days to 50 years of age with no previous active immunity to the type of the virus administered have been immunized or protected through the feeding of such attenuated live viruses in capsules or in liquid form. No untoward reaction has ever been observed during this six year period of successful experience.

The individuals first vaccinated have now been observed for over five years. They have been found to retain full immunity or protection as a result of the original oral dose, swallowed. Its great benefit if it does come into use, will be that in not having to use a syringe and needle which may have some terror in the minds of many. It will only be the swallowing of a small amount of liquid in a teaspoon, or the taking of a substance in a capsule as one does any other type capsule today.

Science marches on, but we must be certain individuals are protected.

BILL RASHALL

Unedited

(Editor's Note: This column is being written by Frank Scully so that Bill Rashall's Right To Loaf might be upheld. Scully, in his own opinion, is one of those ideal chumps whose income as a writer comes from elsewhere and is spent here. Thus he is not a drain on our economy and if we had 50,000 more like him it would be just fine. Also he is not a deadhead reader of The Desert Sun. He pays for his subscription and rarely complains when his paper is thrown a quarter mile from his doorstep.)

"You know," said Frank Bogert when I ran into him the morning after the Great Retreat of Palm Springs into the 19th century, "you're a great friend of ours. You needle the City Council. You get them mad. Then they vote for us."

For a highly paid hired hand himself (and I hope with an iron-bound contract so that the Right To Fire could not be exercised in his case overnight) Bogert's a great kiddier.

But his public relations is less than perfect. I asked him since the vote of City Council on the "Right To Work" ordinance was in the bag, his bag, why didn't he tell them not to lunch and breakfast at his place before getting their final briefing? Why didn't he take off their handcuffs and tell them to lunch in Tamarisk Park or some other neutral spot before moving in for the kill?

TO US OF THE opposition which at present represents the minority of the voters (just as the majority of the City Council represents the minority of voters) we had counted the vote of those whose hearts bled for the right of the worker to be unorganized, while they themselves were as organized as a Soviet regiment, and we knew we were going to be shellacked 6 to 1 or at best 5 to 2.

When you have such a score against you, do you plan to kill time, do you swallow the ball, or do you try for the long pass and at least have some fun out of it? Of course, I needed the non-partisan practically all-Republican City Council for the fun I could get out of their discomfort. While all of them may like Ike, they were so far out in right field they were voting for Coolidge. Don't they know that Ike's social and political views are way out in left field and that's why he got 35,000,000 votes while his party got booted over the fence into oblivion?

I put the City Councilors with the merchant princes of the Italian city-states of the 15th century. I brought the majority up to 1832 when England was plagued with a Rotten Borough system of government much as our districting in Palm Springs is today. They didn't like to be told this. I could have given them an education in industrial relations, but why should I at those prices?

IF I HAD ASKED them how many had read Lincoln's Second Inaugural Address where he placed labor's rights paramount to capital's or if I had asked them how many had read the Social Encyclopedias on Labor and Social Justice, they would have looked more bewildered than they did when I told them that two years ago I was a president of a desert resort chamber of commerce and that 20 years ago I was a member of a union. But do you believe it would have changed one vote? Votes in a bag don't change.

I suspect I was the only one present who had sat on both sides of this labor-management controversy and I wasn't happy at being kicked upstairs to where I am now an author who has to fight a union of publishers single-handed. Publishers have their standard contracts. Authors have no bargaining agent beyond their own drawing power. Actors got out of that CUL DE SAC years ago. They all belong to a union shop.

BUT THEY DIDN'T go that way until after the producers were organized to pick them off individually. From Caesar's time to Hitler's, divide-and-rule has been a most successful way to keep peasants in peonage. It's still working around Palm Springs.

But my chief regret is that I tossed off a pretty good gag at that union-wrecking clambake and it fell deadlier than if I had pulled it at Forest Lawn. I mean the story of Bernard Shaw being called from the wings to make a curtain speech and just as he was about to speak being hissed by a guy in the balcony and saying, "I agree with you, young man, but what can we two do against so many?"

Let's try it again, as they say in show biz, this time with feeling!

EARL WILSON:

Borrows Jewelry for Splurge

NEW YORK — Donning a diamond gardenia and my favorite European accent, I went to the Metropolitan Opera opening recently to prove that men can traipse around now-adays in borrowed jewelry just as much as women TV stars do.

Glistening in a $10,000 "Windsor Rose" for my lapel, borrowed from Otto Grun, I also lit up my shirt front spectacularly with $1,000 worth of star-shaped studs and links borrowed from Ostier. Why not! Today when a woman celebrity doesn't borrow something to wear, she ain't gonna wear anything.

"You're wearing fakes!" was the salutation of false Hampton, Meyer Davis, Mr. John and other alleged friends when they beheld me and the diamond gardenia blazing from my lapel.

"FAKE!" THEY cried, deeming that I had on phonies. "Very pretty!" exclaimed Marlene Dietrich, Lily Pons, Mrs. Ben Grauer and others of exquisite taste who knew better. We were sitting down in the luxurious expanse of the Louis Sherry restaurant which for many years has always been referred to as the Louis Sherry bar. There is probably some good reason for this restaurant being called a bar and I plan to "research" it.

Just then something saved the event from drabness. I don't mean the way Margaret Truman looked at her husband, nor the smile that Marlene flicked at her escort, Dario Sonia, the recording man. I don't even mean Marlene's distressingly high-necked dress.

JOHN F. ROYAL, the wealthy NBC alumnus, entered with his protegee, Heidi Krall, the Berlin Opera star. "Haven't we met before?" I inquired after testing out my speech a few times so this girl from Germany would comprehend.

"Maybe in my birthplace — Toledo, O.," she said. Heidi is so pretty and so . . . well, you know . . . opera-sized. All over. As one of the photographers was saying, "She's got heft, heft, HOORAY!"

It was strange that when I met Hopalong Cassidy and showed off my diamond gardenia at El Morocco later, he looked at all the ice and said, "Are you all from Texas?"

I honestly believe that Diamond Jim Wilson with all his borrowed jewelry did not borrow any more than the average woman does today when she goes out socially. Why shouldn't guys do it too, if they can find the outfit?

Some of you may wish to know about the opera. You may be asking the wrong person. It's not that I have a tin ear, but I've always thought George Jessel could sing real good.

EARL'S PEARLS . . . When Anita Ekberg, meeting the Queen, was advised to show some discretion, she snapped, "Oh, no, I'll show anything but that!"

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Taffy Tuttle knows of a guy who's double-jointed. He owns two night clubs.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Sign in a Memphis gas station: "Elvis Slapped Here."

On Jack Barry's "21" quiz, Jack asked a contestant, "How can we phone you? Isn't there a candy store nearby?" The contestant answered, "It's a poor neighborhood. The candy store doesn't have a phone, either. . . . That's earl, brother."

A surprise baby shower and brunch was hosted by Mrs. Rose Allen and Mrs. Dorothy Angell at the home of Mrs. Angell on Wednesday, honoring Mrs. Nanette Knox, who thought she was attending a Cub Scout Den Mother's meeting. She was completely surprised as she entered to see the Den Mothers and her many other friends waiting to greet her. A mountain of ribbioned gifts decorated the large circular coffee table. After pleasant conversation over coffee and doughnuts, little Mary Schroeder and Shelley Squires, in turn, gave a gift to Nanette to open for everyone to see.

Guests responding to the invitation were Pearl Palmer, Betty Schroeder, Arlene Alessandro, Madeline Gallarini, Thelma Goode, Frances Woody, Helen Carnahan, Margaret Zappe, Betty Watkins, Nancy Vines, Biddie Jean Frazier, Sidera Bogges, Mzie Squires, Helen Bently, Pearl Snyder, Mary Johnson, Jean Blair, Mary McCastle El Farmer and Kay Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Whitmore returned to their home in Whittier Sunday after four days at their desert home. They hope to come down again before the busy Christmas season begins at their gift shop.

Since 1944 Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nelson of Burlington, Iowa, have been spending their winters in Cathedral City. Again this year they are at Kelley Cottages. As they both enjoy being busy, Mrs. Nelson is assisting Mrs. Kelley with the cottages and credit is due Mr. Nelson for the eye catching appearance of the landscaping.

Here for another weekend at their desert home are Mr. and Mrs. Don Frank and daughter, Kathy, of Los Angeles. Mrs. George Oswald, the former Mona Leora Frank, is making her home here while her husband is with the armed forces in Nuremberg, Germany. Joining them for the weekend were: Barbara and George Kresge, Charlotte Stern and Leo Lewis. The Franks will be down again for the Thanksgiving weekend.

Recent weekend guests at the home of Miss Mary Woodburn were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wood who make their home in Riverside.

Here for the winter from their home in Twin Falls, Idaho, are Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Entertaining at the Rancho Mirage Chamber of Commerce benefit dance being held at the Desert Air Hotel next Wednesday night will be Ben and Fern Scott and their friends giving an Exhibition Square Dance.

While in Los Angeles on a buying trip last week, Mrs. Scott enjoyed an evening of dancing with the "Dance Around Club" at Sunnyside Hills. Returning with her on Friday was her sister, Mrs. Pearl Ditzel of Port Townsend, Wash. On his way to Los Angeles Monday to spend a few days buying for his department of Scott's Desert Wear Mr. Scott drove Mrs. Kitzel to the home of another sister, Mrs. Florence Koenig, in Anaheim.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn Payne (he is publisher of the Los Angeles Examiner) were weekend house guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Swinnerton at their new home on Treasure Trail.

Cathedral City Lions Hear of Plans for Improvement of Phone Service

Club Opens Formally And Gaily

Fabulous seems to be a synonym for Shadow Mountain Club—or at least for Shadow Mountain Club social functions such as its formal opening Saturday.

Approximately 500 members and guests arrived beautifully bedecked in formal attire for this annual occasion. They were greeted by a warm display of white and gold candles set on white linen tablecloths. Souvenir gold tumblers with the Shadow Mountain Club crest also added to this very attractive picture.

Adding another segment to this picture was Bill Lechner, radio, TV and movie personality who headed a floor show of star-studded talent with his popular vocal renditions. The wonderful music of the Jo Lantz Trio provided the rhythms for dancing pleasure.

The Don Camerons hosted a cocktail party in the Indian Room of the Club before joining the ball. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Libby Shelley, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. Al Ziskin, Graham Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, Dr. and Mrs. John Costello, Mrs. Sally O'Neill Battles, Mrs. Jim Kenaston, Mrs. Beth Fisher and others.

Edith Eddy Ward hosted a party for the Willard Parkers, Ralph S. Hales, William T. Dodds, Monty Orrs and Mrs. Bunny Ward.

Fur Styles Paraded at High Tea

Beautiful models paraded a collection of luxurious furs at the high tea style show at the Desert Inn Monday afternoon, which marked the opening of the new "Furs by Courney" shop, located at the gates to the Inn.

Miss Courtney commented the show which presented the finest examples of the furrier's art in mink, sable, beaver and natural broadtail and Diadem the new mutation mink, fashioned into shoulder-hugging stoles, short jackets and extravagantly beautiful full length coats. All were especially designed to meet the demands of a resort wardrobe.

The invitational showing was held in the Inn's dining room, and tiny sandwiches and petit fours were served with tea or coffee.

In the late afternoon crowd at the style show were Dorothy Gray Brown, Bertine Treat, Elsinore Machris, Irene Harlow. A three-some were Hazel France, Lillian Bishop and Peggy Dean. Joe Schenck was there with Mrs. William Perilberg and Mrs. Henry Bussey, and Velma Silverman. Grace Pope and Florence Murphy had Ray Blumenthal at their table. Marcia and George Barrett were there with Bill Bogess.

Others in the smart crowd were Marguerite Trousseau, Sally Eilers Morse, Blake Corliss, Edith Carlson, Connie Erickson, Mrs. Margaret Bell, Florence Lockett, and many more.

Models were Jane Wade, Gladys Stryker, Michelle Ailor, Joan Flynn, Barbara Foster and Denise Webber.

Guests at the style show were asked to register at the shop within the next week, and the one holding a verified low score at golf will receive a set of mink covers for their golf clubs.

Miss Courtney introduced Los Angeles furrier A. I. Lipsey, who is associated with her in the new shop.

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

Thanksgiving Palm Springs style is a far cry from that first Thanksgiving . . . when the Pilgrim fathers decided that the harvest looked good enough to celebrate . . .

Contrast the green of the lawns and golf courses with the frost-nipped autumn woods of New England . . . and the clear blue of the heated swimming pools . . . with the gray Atlantic dashing cold water on the rock-bound coast . . . instead of the flare of neons . . . the flood-lighted palms along Palm Canyon Drive . . . and the subdued indirect lighting of dozens of night spots . . . picture the firelight of an open hearth and the soft glow of hand-dipped tallow candles . . . with no other light than the stars over the tiny settlement . . . surrounded by the forest land . . .

Compare the prim, grim homespun of our ancestors . . . with the vivid casual sportswear of this desert resort . . . and consider the difference between a cellophane-wrapped frozen turkey of today . . . and a wild one that fell pierced by an arrow . . . or by musket shot.

Yes, there's a world of difference . . . but this Thanksgiving 1956 will find the Village observance still fairly traditional . . . Turkeys will be browning tomorrow in ovens . . . in hillside homes and all over the Village . . . on Tamarisk and Tachevah . . . on Riverside Drive and Via Las Palmas . . . on Mesa Drive and on San Lorenzo Road . . . and tomorrow families will gather about laden dinner tables . . . to eat too much turkey . . . and creamy pumpkin pies.

City folks are heading for the desert for a sunny holiday . . . and Villagers are trekking to seashore and mountains . . . and to the city . . . to spend the day with their families . . . Some will gather in the churches . . . to pour out their Thanksgiving in prayer and song . . . and others will say it in their hearts . . . as they glory in the peace and warmth of the desert . . . thankful to be here . . . They will remember to be thankful for all the things they hold most dear . . . and in the homes, in the restaurants, in the hotels and clubs . . . this typically American holiday will be . . . as always . . . a blend of festivity and solemnity . . .

The horn of plenty has become traditional decor for Thanksgiving . . . and nowhere is it more appropriate than in Palm Springs . . . The jewel-colored fruits that spill from the horn are symbolic . . . of the many blessings that shower on this desert resort every day in the year . . .

Let us be thankful . . . not only that we live in these United States of America . . . but also that our particular town has so much of beauty . . . so much of gracious living . . . and such generous, friendly, warmhearted people . . . There's no place like it . . . and just for Palm Springs . . . let's re-phrase "America the Beautiful" and sing . . . "O Beautiful for spacious skies . . . for amber dunes of sand . . . For purple mountain majesty . . . above the desert land" . . .

Bon Voyage

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Moseley of Flintridge and Palm Desert hosted a bon voyage dinner party at Shadow Mountain Club for Colonel and Mrs. George Townsend of Palm Desert and Pebble Beach, Colonel and Mrs. Townsend are leaving for a three-month tour of Europe.

Friends attending the gathering were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henderson of Palm Desert, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rollins and Mr. and Mrs. Boynton Jones of Palm Desert.

The Robert Keslers will have the Bud Bachtolds as Thanksgiving dinner guests at their Chuckwalla Road home.

Weekend Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard R. Hayward entertained weekend guests at their home on Porter Drive, Cathedral City. They were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Drennen of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. George Foster of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunlap, also of Los Angeles. All attended the Line Officers Party of the White Shrine in Banning on Saturday evening. Mrs. Hayward is one of the Line Officers.

Troops Alerted Against Uprising In Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia, (AP)—Army headquarters alerted a Jakarta infantry regiment for "any eventuality" today and there were fears a military revolt could come at any time.

Maj. Djauho, commander of the Jakarta Military Command, said the situation was critical but refused to say the government believed an Army coup was imminent.

The government Friday asked public leaders and the press not to spread half-true or false reports on the Army situation because they "badly affected discipline in the armed forces and caused unrest among the people."

Tension has built up since Nov. 9 when Army Chief of Staff Maj. Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution launched a drive against dissident officers who were said to want to overthrow the government and ban the Communist party in Indonesia.

30-Unit Camp Site Planned

Construction of a thirty unit camp site and a four unit motel to be located approximately 500 yards to the rear of "Helen's Beach House" on Salton Sea Beach will be started in January, according to Helen Burns, Owner.

Cabanas and palm shelters have been constructed along the beach front within the past few months and Mrs. Burns reports a wonderful season with water ski races, boat races and fishing contests.

Plans are getting underway for the Salton Sea Fishing Contest scheduled for Dec. 2. One of the outstanding events of the season, a $25 prize will be awarded at this time to the lucky fisherman with hook and line, who lands the largest Corvina.

Last week, 25 members of the Tele-Mark Ski Club of Los Angeles employees of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph spent three days at the popular resort participating in the ten mile water ski race. Gold trophies were awarded Mrs. Burns to first, second and third place winners.

5 New Pumping Plants Started

The Metropolitan Water Company's plans for construction of five new pumping plants located in the lower Coachella Valley, are well underway with actual construction to begin February 1, it was learned today.

These plants, which will double the water supply going into the Los Angeles and San Diego area, are expected to be completed by Aug. 1 with installation of the pumps taking place over a one to three year period.

H. B. Nicholson, Pasadena contractor, is in charge of construction with the plants named respectively—Intake, Gene, Iron Mountain, Eagle Mountain and Hayfield.

Desert Hot Springs Uranium 'Health Cave' and Motel to Open Saturday

Six units of the motel built to surround the desert's first uranium "health cave" for arthritis and rheumatism sufferers will open Saturday according to owner, Jerry Garvin of Desert Hot Springs.

The motel is located at Dillon and Corkill Roads in Desert Hot Springs approximately three miles east of Palm Drive. Garvin and his partners, Robert and Shayne Linderman of Idaho have constructed six of the proposed 20 units surrounding the "health cave" area which also includes two therapeutic pools of hot mineral water from their own 175 degree well, with full mineral content.

Additional construction to the U-shaped area will be commenced after the first of the year. TWENTY-FIVE TONS of uranium ore, which Garvin and the Lindermans brought from Barstow line the walls and are inlaid in the ceiling of the 12 by 21 foot "cave" which is approached through a 38 foot tunnel.

Three Report 'Flying Saucer' In North Dakota

BISMARCK, N.D., (AP)—Three persons reported seeing a fiery object streak through the sky over Bismarck last night, stirring up memories of "flying saucers."

A radio announcer, Eldon Ray, described the object as a "reddish-white ball of flame trailing blue flame." He was only able to glimpse it for a few seconds before it disappeared, but said it appeared to be erupting as it sped west. He estimated that it was traveling 1,500 to 2,500 feet in the air.

A Frontier Airline pilot passing over the city said he thought it to be a meteorite. A Civil Aeronautics Administration representative at the Bismarck Airport discounted this.

"It didn't act like a meteorite," he said. He described it as being "of a glowing nature... bluish-green."

Munro Predicts Liquor Price War Next Year

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Russell S. Munro, California liquor control director, warned today the country faced a possible liquor price war next year.

"It's starting to build up now and could come to a head next year," Munro said.

The state official said United States distillers had a "tremendous stock" of stored liquor because they "overproduced during the Korean War."

He told a committee of the California Assembly that "quite a surplus" of the stored liquor would become eight years old next year and then would be subject to the federal tax of $10.50 a gallon.

"The distillers can't afford to pay this tax," he said, causing what the industry calls a "force out"—a situation in which the distillers are forced to sell their stock to avoid the tax.

Munro said he felt the only way to stop the building trend toward a price war would be to change the federal law.

Britain's Fuel Rationing Sets Off Truck Strike

LONDON, (AP) — Hundreds of truck drivers walked off their jobs today in the first open revolt against the government's drastic Suez gasoline rationing order.

The truck drivers protested against fuel cuts that brought an order from the nationalized British Road Services to lay off one crew in every 10 to stretch rationing gasoline supplies until fuel can again be shipped through the Suez Canal.

British Road Services headquarters said about 1,500 men were on strike at 11 a.m. at BRS depots in London.

The nationalized truck line operates practically all long distance highway freight transportation in Britain.

Psychologist Says Men Take Up Hobbies to Cure Guilt Complex

CHICAGO (AP) — Consulting psychologist Peter Siegle says American men are the world's most accomplished loafers.

Siegle was hired by Monogram Models to find out why more grown men than boys have taken up model building as a hobby.

He concluded that the leisure afforded by the 40-hour week is a major factor, combined with a sort of guilt complex about idleness.

SIEGLE SAID this feeling of guilt is a hand-me-down from the puritanical philosophy of our forefathers, who regarded idleness as a sin.

"On the one hand, men welcome the ever-increasing amount of time away from their jobs," Siegle said. "On the other, they are conscience bound to spend at least part of that time in constructive activity."

The psychologist said building model planes, boats and trains is a light, enjoyable pastime, but challenging enough to give a man a feeling of accomplishment.

HE SAID IT'S a nice hobby for a man who likes to stick close to home and family, but lacks the talent or inclination to plunge into major do-it-yourself projects or gardening.

"Many men look upon working around the house as a form of drudgery, a sort of 'second job,'" Siegle said. "They feel they have earned the right to take it easy at home."

But they still aren't happy doing nothing, he said.

Ever since the war broke out in the Middle East everyone has become a political analyst.

The great tragedy concerning the existence of the United Nations, is that it had fortified peoples in the satellite countries of its strength to act, and imbued them with a degree of hope and confidence, so that in the event they rebel against their Soviet tyrants, their beachheads would be fortified by immediate help from the western countries lest they be summarily and expeditiously decimated, and all hope for freedom irretrievably lost. Such is the plight now of the Hungarian people in the face of a helpless United Nations.

Showering in the bathroom was originated for fat people. It is true they could with due caution gravitate themselves into the bathtub but it becomes an entirely different matter to emerge therefrom.

Idaho U. Freshman Accused in 4 Dormitory Fires That Killed Three

MOSCOW, Idaho, (AP) — Six state policemen stood guard today around the Latah County jail as "protection" for a University of Idaho freshman arrested in an investigation of four dormitory fires that killed three men students.

The suspect was Paul Davis Matovich, Kellogg, Idaho.

He was accused only of setting a fire at Chrisman Hall, one of three blazes that preceded the fatal blaze at Gault Hall, Oct. 19. It was in the Gault blaze that the three students perished.

Law officers refused to say whether Matovich admitted setting the Gault blaze. They said they had their "reasons" for charging him only with the Chrisman Hall fire.

Law Enforcement Commissioner Lloyd G. Martinson said: "Investigation which involved a series of fires in University of Idaho dormitories and the death of three students at the last fire at Gault Hall Oct. 19 was culminated with a full confession by Matovich after the unrelenting cooperation of all investigative agencies."

Father Extradited For Kidnaping His Daughters

SACRAMENTO, (AP) — Gov. Goodwin J. Knight has issued a warrant for the return of Donald G. Van Orden to Ramsey County, Minn., to face kidnaping charges in connection with the custody of his two daughters.

Van Orden has been living in Garden Grove and the two girls, Sheila, 9, and Barbara, 5, were reported to be with him there.

Minnesota authorities said Van Orden was granted custody of the two girls under a divorce settlement during only July and August. He was not supposed to take the girls out of the state during the other 10 months.

The authorities said Van Orden brought the girls to California last summer with no intention of ever returning them to Minnesota.

Joseph Babbich, Knight's extradition secretary who conducted a hearing on the Minnesota request last week, said Tuesday that Van Orden had attempted to get permanent custody of the children through the Orange County Superior Court. However, Babbich said the court refused to take jurisdiction and ordered Van Orden to return the girls to their mother.

One-Legged Oakland Grid Star Keeps It a Secret

Coach Calles and Earle Norwood

WHEN IT COMES TIME to select the "most courageous" athlete of the year the honor should go — unanimously — to Earle Norwood, football player at Oakland, California, Junior college.

Norwood, 25-year-old Korean veteran, has one leg.

And, he's quarterback and star on the Oakland team, coached by Gil Calles.

Norwood, who lost his right leg when he stepped on a land mine while on Marine patrol duty in Korea in May, 1952, kept his handicap a secret last year when he reported for the Oakland team after a period of rehabilitation and work in an automobile plant.

Coach Calles discovered it but kept it a secret.

The secret remained just that until recently when the amputee told one of his fellow players that he had broken his "leg" in scrimmage and then showed the team-mate the shattered wooden limb.

The player, amazed and startled, ran to the coach to reveal the finding. The coach then admitted he had known about it, but hadn't said anything because he didn't want the opposing team to know about it.

NORWOOD'S play has been sensational. His coach will tell you that the one-legged war hero is a fine defensive player and gets in there and makes the tackles too. While there is a serious side to Norwood's story, a bit of humor frequently creeps in.

Like the story of the game in which his artificial limb was splintered and help was called. When aid arrived, Norwood quipped:

"I don't need a doctor. I need a carpenter."

The courageous Oakland figure carries spurs because of damage suffered in contact to both the wooden leg and the knee hinge joints.

NORWOOD joined the Marines after playing varsity football for his home town high school at Chichester, Mass. After he lost his leg in Korea, he was returned to the U. S. and entered the Oakland Naval hospital, where he went through the rehabilitation period.

For two years after his release from the hospital Norwood worked in an Oakland auto plant, played in a softball loop with a basketball team and was a member of an amputee bowling team.

He then decided to go to college under the GI bill. In class he is a sophomore and next year plans to enroll at San Francisco State college. His future aim is to be a coach.

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK, AP — For those who like dark meat, crow may be an acceptable substitute for the Thanksgiving turkey. And since a fellow can't crow unless he comes up with a solid slate of winners, he might as well eat crow instead. Anyway, these little tidbits to whet the appetite:

GAME OF THE WEEK

Ohio State over Michigan — The Buckeyes still are shooting for at least a share of the Big Ten title. Losing to Iowa was nothing to be ashamed of. The Hawkeyes simply proved they had been underrated.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Pennsylvania over Cornell — The Quakers know all about Thanksgiving.

Colgate over Brown — A nice Brown pumpkin pie, but no oranges please.

Maryland over North Carolina State — Start it out with Terrapin soup.

Richmond over William-Mary — Even a Spider has to eat, you know.

Also: VPI over VMI, South Carolina over Wake Forest, Idaho over Montana, Utah over Utah State, Denver over Colorado A&M.

The Saturday picks:

EAST

Yale over Harvard — Bulldogs dined on Tiger steaks last Saturday.

Princeton over Dartmouth — Now the Tigers go for a square meal.

Pittsburgh over Penn State — Barbecued Nittany Lion over soft coal fire.

Villanova over Iowa State — And these Cyclones won't blow out the fire.

Columbia over Rutgers — Little enough to do for Coach Lou in his finale.

Also: Boston College over Brandeis.

SOUTH

Tennessee over Kentucky — Who? 11 volunteer to feed the Wildcats?

Georgia Tech over Florida — The Engineers want dinner in a bowl; these Tigers are hungry, too.

Alabama over Mississippi Southern — A Crimson Tide all over the tablecloth.

Also: Miami over West Virginia, Duke over North Carolina, Auburn over Florida State.

MIDWEST

Purdue over Indiana — An old oaken bucket full of Boilermakers for an appetizer.

Michigan State over Kansas State — Wildcats not such a Spartan diet.

Iowa over Notre Dame — The guys who pick the Hawkeyes don't eat crow.

Also: Northwestern over Illinois, Minnesota over Wisconsin.

SOUTHWEST

Baylor over SMU — Baptists and Methodists have a church dinner.

TCU over Rice — They have Thanksgiving in Chinatown, too.

Also: Houston over Texas Tech, Arkansas over LSU.

MIDLANDS

Oklahoma over Nebraska — Well-fed Sooners wind up husking corn.

FAR WEST

Washington over Washington State — These guys provide the finger bowls.

Stanford over California — By an arrowhead.

Colorado over Arizona — We're getting Boulder and Boulder.

UCLA over Southern California — Gotta hurry, we're late for dinner.

Lynn Waldorf Will Retire Next July

BERKELEY, Calif. AP — Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, head football coach at the University of California for the past 10 years, announced Tuesday night he is retiring at the expiration of his contract.

The portly mentor, who brought the Bears to the Rose Bowl three times during his career at Berkeley, said he has been planning to retire "for some time." He did not disclose his future plans.

Waldorf first announced his decision to the squad. Then he issued a statement that said:

"I intend to retire as coach of football at University of California at the end of my present contract, which expires July 1, 1957. I have thoroughly enjoyed my 10 years at the University of California and I have particularly enjoyed working with this year's squad."

UC athletic director Greg Englehard said the resignation "came pretty much as a surprise."

Waldorf, 54, came to California in 1947. Since then, he has coached the Bears to 66 wins, and 32 losses and four ties. His record this year is 2-7.

Olympiad Opens Tomorrow With 4985 Athletes

MELBOURNE, AP — The XVI Olympiad opens Thursday with 4,985 athletes from 69 countries determined to make this city an island of good will in a world torn by strife.

For the next 16 days they will go all out in an unprecedented assault on world records—bearing in mind at the same time the Olympic code that "the main objective is not to win, but to play the game well."

A crowd of 110,000, including visitors from all over the world, will be on hand for the colorful opening ceremonies.

The United States, as usual, is favored to win the unofficial "team championship" after a titanic battle with Russia.

Jewish Book Month Head to be Speaker

Dr. Philip L. Seman, chairman of Jewish Book Month Committee, will be the guest speaker when the Men's Club of the Jewish Community Center, 332 West Alejo Road, plays host to the Women's Group on Wednesday, Nov. 21, at 8:15 p.m., according to Henry Birns, president.

Best known for his inspiring leadership as director of the Jewish People's Institute of Chicago, Dr. Seman has been active in the cultural and educational development of the American Jewish Community since 1901. He has been the driving force in such organizations as orphanages, community centers, youth groups, universities and welfare groups in the role of lecturer, teacher or executive director.

Although he retired professionally in 1945, Dr. Seman has continued to work for the Jewish cultural and civic organizations in Los Angeles, where he now resides. The Bureau of Jewish Education, the Jewish Center Movement, and the Hillel Foundation have claimed his attentions daily. The University of Judaism where he serves on the faculty as well as the Board of Governors has become one of his absorbing projects.

The get-together on Wednesday is the first major social event of the Men's Club season. There will be a musical program, featuring Stanley Spiegelman, violinist. An informal social hour and special refreshments have been planned. All those interested are invited to attend.

Babe Ruth hit his first home run in professional baseball during a game in Fayetteville, N. C., in March, 1914. An official marker commemorated the event.

Seven County Road Projects to be Christmas Gift for DHS Residents

Motorists into Desert Hot Springs are being given a Christmas present by the Riverside County Highway Department of road improvements totaling $46,700.

Included are seven various projects including $15,000 worth of reconstruction and resurfacing work on Dillon Road and $14,000 worth of paving and improvements on Indian Avenue.

The latter two projects are scheduled so that main arteries will not be torn up simultaneously.

Indian avenue, undergoing improvements in a 22-foot wide stretch of two and one-half miles between Pierson boulevard and Dillon road should be completed by the end of this week according to A. C. Keith, Riverside County Surveyor and Road Commissioner.

DILLON ROAD will then be started with portions of reconstruction, resurfacing and widening and removal of bad dips. The two and one-half mile stretch involved is between Palm and Indian avenue. Improvements are to be completed before Dec. 15.

Eight streets will be given seal coats at a total cost of $6,700. The coating is an application of bituminous binder and a rock screening which provides an existing road with a surface to protect it from wear and moisture and provide a living action to the surface.

Streets to receive the seal coat in Desert Hot Springs and south in Covey's Corner are: Dillon Road, Flora Avenue, Estrella Avenue, Thumb Drive, Sanborne street, Covey street, Keith street, and Louise street.

A $3,900 reconstruction job will be done on West and East Arroya Drive, between Hacienda and West Drive.

RESURFACE WORK and widening of Hacienda Avenue from Palm Avenue to Verbena Drive, to make the stretch conform with the eastern portion of Hacienda, will cost $4,900.

Pierson Boulevard will be widened between Verbena Drive and Mesquite Road, on the south side of the boulevard to meet existing curbs installed by a subdivider. This project will cost $1,500.

Curb widening work costing $700 will be done on West Drive, from Eighth Street to Fourth Street.

STILL ANOTHER project combining the efforts of both Riverside and San Bernardino Counties, will be the interim widening of the Twenty-nine Palms road from Highway 60-70-99 northward to Morongo Valley.

Cost is estimated at $270,000, of which about $221,000 will be charged to this county's share of the state budget. Nine miles are in Riverside county and two in San Bernardino.

Rice Announces Four Promotions

Sheriff Joe Rice announced this week the promotion of Howard C. Smith, sergeant in the Civil Division, to the position of Chief of the Civil Division, replacing Basil Mowrey, who was appointed Undersheriff.

Smith was employed by the Sheriff's office on April 2, 1944, and was transferred to the Civil Division on Oct. 25, 1948. He was promoted to sergeant on Sept. 5, 1950, and has done an outstanding job during his assignment, according to Rice.

Richard Fowler is being promoted to the position of sergeant in the Civil Division, replacing Smith. Fowler was employed by the Sheriff's office on June 1, 1948, transferred to the Civil Division on Dec. 1, 1950, was promoted to Investigator on July 2, 1954.

Dallas Taylor, Deputy Grade II, Blythe Substation, is being transferred to the Riverside office as an investigator.

Lawrence M. Compton, Deputy Grade I, Blythe Substation, is being promoted to Deputy Grade II.

47,481 Letters Sent in Christmas Seal Campaign in Riverside County

The 50th annual Christmas Seal opened last week with the mailing of 47,481 letters containing the traditional Seal to homes in Riverside county, according to Mrs. H. Lauritz Hansen, chairman of the campaign in the Palm Springs area.

"We have high hopes of raising $40,000 during the next few weeks to carry on an aggressive anti-tuberculosis campaign during the next year," Mrs. Hansen said, indicating the need for intensified efforts to meet the challenge of a disease which has shown a tendency to increase both in the number of new cases and in the number of deaths per 100,000 people in the past three years.

Deaths, which had declined from 37.7 to 9.6 in a five-year period until 1953 increased to 11.3 in 1954 and 12.2 in 1955 with indications that the rate will go still higher in 1956.

The major concern, so far as the ultimate control of tuberculosis is concerned, is the current rise in the number of new cases. The rate is presently running about 40 per cent up from last year.

"Free screening x-rays on the Christmas Seal unit is one of the important services offered by the tuberculosis association," Mrs. Hansen said, pointing out that increased public demand for this one service has strained the association's resources to capacity and to the point of infringing on other important phases of the program.

"We hope this year's campaign will help us meet the level of this demand and will also assure our ability to measure up fully to the growing need for our other services," she said.

Amazon Gorge Reveals 'Written' Hint of Prehistoric Civilization

NEW YORK — Deep in the heavy jungle of the Amazon headwaters there are rock-carved symbols that could turn out to be a "time capsule" message from a prehistoric civilization.

An ancient symbol specialist just back from his third expedition in a continuing effort to solve the riddle of the symbols reported today that mapping of the previously uncharted area with airborne cameras has added new evidence to the theory of a civilization in the pre-history of South America.

George Michanowsky, president of the Amazonia Foundation, led the recent four-month expedition into the Bolivian headwaters of the Amazon River system. The expedition located, in the gorge of a legendary "river of writing," a boulder measuring 35 by 35 feet by which an ancient people may have tried to leave a message to posterity.

THE AYMAR INDIAN tribe which lives in the High Andes has perpetuated the story of the existence of a "khawera Kalkata," or river of writing, Michanowsky said. This tribe is thought to have been illiterate back through the time of Columbus, but Michanowsky regards it as significant that their spoken language included a word meaning "writing."

Michanowsky believes the river in which his expedition's work was done is the one to which the Aymara legend refers. The symbols also occur on other rock outcroppings in the area. He has developed a theory of deciphering the petroglyphs and has been at work on the project for several years.

THE AERIAL SURVEY, in which three planes were used for photographing, disclosed an ancient road linking the low-lying river and jungle area with a nearby 14,000-foot plateau. The Aymaras live in the mountainous area of the plateau.

Another accomplishment of the expedition was locating on the high plateau a stone-ware head of a jaguar. There are no jaguars on the plateau now and the Spaniards found none there in their time, Michanowsky said.

"ON THE JAGUAR head are painted symbols which to my knowledge never have been found in the Western Hemisphere before," he said. "One is an Egyptian-type Tau cross, with a conventional Maltese cross on each side of it."

"This all fits into a theory of an ancient civilization using some

American, 32, Takes Buddhist Vows as Priest

TOKYO — A young American who became a Buddhist priest with the new name Shuzen now looks forward to five to seven years of study at a Buddhist temple.

Robert C. Wheeler whose parents live at Nebraska City, Neb., told United Press in a telephone interview that he became a Buddhist priest in orientation rites at Enryakui Temple near Kyoto.

"I am in the priesthood," he said.

The 32-year-old Wheeler took the name Shuzen which was a combination of his abbot's name and that of his teacher, Zenzho Narima. In translation it means "Excellent Completeness."

Wheeler said he had been studying under his teacher since last January and does not have to serve the customary 40-day probationary period. Ordinarily, novitiates must remain on probation for 40 days, after which temple officials decide whether they are worthy to continue.

Wheeler said he hopes to study Buddhist doctrine for the first year and a half, then spend from three to five years or more studying the practices of the Tendai sect which he joined. He said he must also study the Japanese language "very diligently" for the next year.

"I have no idea what I will do after that," he said, "That's too far away yet."

Wheeler said he first became interested in Buddhism in 1947 at the Matakui Temple at Maui, Hawaii. He came to Japan July 2, 1953, to study.

He is also teaching at the Higashiyama Buddhist Women's University in Tokyo.

There'll be Less Meat in 1957

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Agriculture Department says there will be slightly less meat available in 1957. It will sell at higher prices than in 1956.

"Hog slaughter especially will be less than in 1956," the department said Wednesday. "Fully as many cattle likely will be slaughtered as in 1956, but average carcass weights may be enough lighter to pull down the total output of beef to some extent."

Desert Museum Features Two New Exhibits, Including Snakes

Because so many visitors to the Museum seem to be particularly interested in seeing snakes — and tend to be vocally disturbed when the snake population drops to zero, as it sometimes does—the Museum has acquired the first member of a hoped-for series of the reptiles in a form needing no care and presenting no problem of danger, Dr. C. E. Smith director announced today.

Snake is an example of Crotalus Ruber, the Red-Diamond Rattlesnake, cast in latex, hand painted and rigged with a vibrator so he rattles when a button is pushed. Ultimately, the Museum intends to have representatives of most of the desert snakes — and lizards—prepared in the same no- upkeep manner.

The second new exhibit consists of one table case of materials prepared and installed by members of the Palm Springs Lapidary Club. Included are polished slabs of petrified wood, opalized wood, jasper, bloodstone, travertine, agate and siliceous sinter.

There are also examples of silver jewelry made with these materials, some faceted gem stones, a small geode, and a ball of lepidolite.

The Lapidary club will add new items to this exhibit from time to time, so visitors may see the type and quality of the work being done under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Vargas, instructors in lapidary for the Adult Evening school.

Kefauver Denies Aspirations for 1960 Presidency

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Sen Estes Kefauver, potential 1960 presidential candidate to some observers, said today he has "no plans" in that direction.

The defeated Democratic vice presidential nominee told the United Press:

"I come up for reelection to the Senate in 1960. Beyond that, I have no plans."

The Tennessee Democrat said he believes in general that the campaign waged by Democrats in the recent election was a "pretty good" one. He said he believes emergence of the crisis in the Middle East accounted for the landslide which swept President Eisenhower back into the White House.

"People tend to unite behind authority, whether it is good or not," the senator said.

Remembers Happiness

PEPPERELL, Mass. (AP) — When Mrs. Adney W. Gray, 90, observed her 70th wedding anniversary with her 92-year-old husband, she was asked if her married life had been completely harmonious. "No two people think alike all the time," she said, "but occasional spats didn't mean a thing. It was the happiness we shared that counted and happiness is something that takes more than one to really enjoy."

Old House Yields $25,000, Bag of Jewels, Trouble

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — Legal authorities were in a quandary today as the legal owner, or owners, of $25,000 in cash and a bag of jewels discovered in a lamp after the death of an elderly widow.

Two moving men discovered the cache when $25,000 in currency and a bag full of diamond and ruby bracelets, rings and brooches fell out of the bowl of a floorlamp.

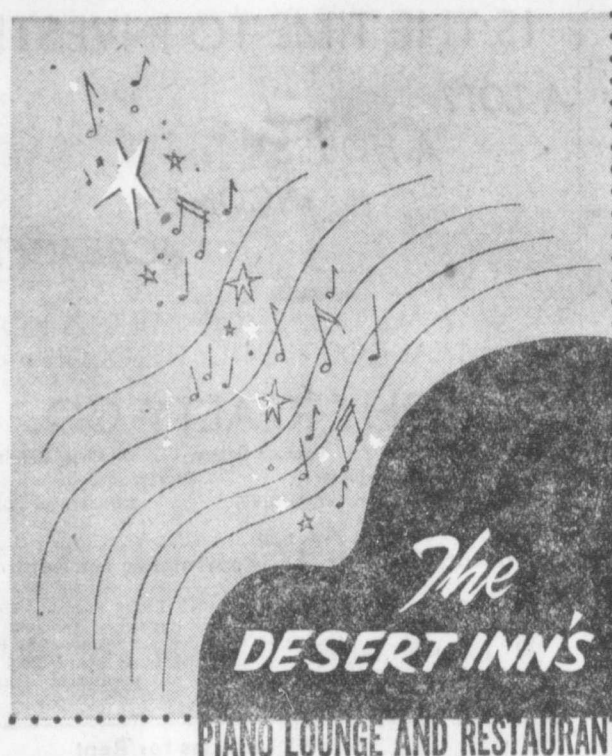

They were clearing out the house of Mrs. Emma Sovereign, who died a year ago, to make way for the new owners.

Attorney George DeRoy, executor of Mrs. Sovereign's estate, said, "We believe the estate and its heirs have title to it, naturally."

But he admitted that a legal tangle could develop between the home's new owner, Mrs. Yetta Maizlishe, Bekins Van & Storage, which found the hidden treasure and the estate itself.

Winning Kiss

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Mayor Nolan F. Ziegler received an unexpected prize himself from the winner of a sports sedan whose name he had picked from among thousands in a sales contest here. Winner Anastasia Morris had been out of the city at the time of the drawing, but when the mayor dropped into her restaurant for lunch, she stepped right up and planted a kiss on the mayor's cheek.
